Local filing instructions

Your destination is Court of Common Pleas, Franklin County, Ohio, General Division, Criminal, determined from the supplied court record. These Franklin diagnostic fixtures do not limit statewide route coverage; another court requires its own current mandatory mechanics before generation.

Franklin criminal filings use electronic filing. A self-represented filer may bring paper to the clerk for registration/scanning assistance and submission, or mail paper for clerk registration/scanning/filing. Incarcerated self-represented defendants submit paper themselves. Email and fax are not substitutes. Clerk: Franklin County Clerk of Courts, General Division, 345 South High Street, first floor, Columbus, OH 43215.

Original application, continuation and service pages use embedded Arial at 12 points, double spaced. Official Form96-C1 and the BCI form retain the issuer layout. Each submitted PDF is limited to 5 MB, with 25 MB together. Retain both submission receipt and final clerk acceptance; correct rejections and verify accepted timestamp. Proposed orders must be DOCX; no proposed order is required by the adopted packet and none is included.

Serve opposing counsel and unrepresented parties under Local Rule 19 and retain written proof. The included service certificate is unexecuted. Confirm recipient name/address and permitted method, and complete actual method/date/signature only after service. Court statutory notice does not replace this written proof. Self-represented defendants receive paper service.

R.C.2953.32 requires a $50 fee unless indigent and permits an additional local fee up to $50; the held Franklin listing states $50 for conviction sealing. Confirm the exact total for your selected remedy before submission.

These fixtures are nonindigent. If requesting indigency, obtain the exact current court affidavit and execute it truthfully; generation refuses that branch until the document is bound. No judicial indigency finding is prefilled.

Review and sign the original application and date it personally. It is an original pleading, not an official state form.

Records to obtain and compare

Obtain BCI criminal history record. Request a criminal history record from BCI. It is the only practical way to assemble the full docket that ORC 2953.61 and the counting rules make decisive.

Check your answer to "What other convictions do you have, in Ohio or anywhere else, with the degree and the date?" against BCI criminal history record, and correct the packet if they disagree.

Obtain Certified disposition for each charge from the incident. Ask the clerk of each court for a certified copy of the disposition. Every charge from the incident is needed.

Check your answer to "What every charge was that came out of the same incident, and how each one ended." against Certified disposition for each charge from the incident, and correct the packet if they disagree.

Obtain Proof of final discharge. Gather the termination of supervision, the release, and receipts or a zero-balance statement for fines and restitution. Court costs are not part of the sentence for this purpose.

Check your answer to "When did you finish the sentence, including any parole, all fines and all restitution?" against Proof of final discharge, and correct the packet if they disagree.

Keep originals and certified dispositions for every charge from the incident. Compare the docket with your BCI record and proof of final discharge, including fines and restitution. Unpaid court costs alone do not delay final discharge. Synthetic fixture facts are not certified documents; obtain actual record evidence before filing.

Hearing, objections and post-order instructions

The court decides eligibility and relief. Do not fill judicial findings, prosecutor decisions, hearing dates or court/service certifications.

R.C.2953.32 and 2953.33 hearings follow the applicable 45–90 day statutory framework.

Follow the actual court notice, preserve prosecutor/victim notice and objection rights, and bring requested records; no generated hearing date is supplied.

Stop for legal assistance: The sealing-versus-expungement election, which is a legal choice with different waits and different exclusions.

Stop for legal assistance: Any first or second degree felony, any felony offence of violence, any sexually oriented offence, any registration history.

Stop for legal assistance: Any traffic or motor vehicle chapter offence, including OVI.

Stop for legal assistance: Any offence where the victim was under 13.

Stop for legal assistance: Theft in office.

Stop for legal assistance: First or second degree domestic violence.

Stop for legal assistance: Any third degree felony where the counting rule may bite.

Stop for legal assistance: Out-of-state or federal convictions, which move the venue to common pleas.

Stop for legal assistance: Any incident that produced more than one charge with different dispositions, which triggers ORC 2953.61.

Stop for legal assistance: Pending criminal proceedings or open warrants.

Stop for legal assistance: Prosecutor objection, and any victim objection where applicable.

Hearing, objections and post-order instructions

Stop for legal assistance: Choosing between sealing and expungement, which is a legal judgment with different waits and different exclusions.

Stop for legal assistance: Immigration exposure.

Sealable but not expungeable: third and fourth degree misdemeanour domestic violence under ORC 2919.25, and protection order violations under ORC 2919.27 or substantially similar municipal ordinances. This split matters and is easy to miss.

Ohio has both sealing and expungement and they are different remedies. Do not say "completely gone from everywhere".

"Eligible offender" no longer exists. SB 288 removed that definition from ORC 2953.31 and with it the numeric cap on how many convictions a person could seal. Any product logic inherited from pre-2023 Ohio is wrong.

For § 2953.32 conviction expungements, BCI keeps a limited record for law-enforcement employment qualification and disqualification, while other entities receiving notice must destroy, delete and erase. This is the single most important disclosure in Ohio expungement copy.

"Sentence" does not include payment of court costs, so unpaid court costs do not delay eligibility. That is a common and expensive misunderstanding and it is worth telling participants explicitly.

If relief is granted, retain the signed order and follow its agency distribution directions. The BCI request is a blank post-order transmission companion for the authorized sender, not an application for relief. Do not sign, date, check record-system boxes or certify a judicial order before those events occur.

Hearing, objections and post-order instructions

Sealing does not destroy records. For expungement under R.C.2953.32(D)(5), BCI retains a limited record for law-enforcement employment qualification or disqualification even when other notified entities destroy, delete or erase records. Do not claim erasure everywhere.
