Instructions for Filing a Motion to Expunge or Seal Record - Felony

1. Fill in the required fields in the Motion to Expunge or Seal Record – The Defendant’s name, case number, bureau of criminal identification number, the count(s), charge(s), and disposition(s) of the case, and the name of the police department that charged the case. Also, indicate whether you are moving to seal or expunge your criminal records.
2. The Clerk’s Office will fill in the hearing date for the motion. The date will be at least ten (10) days from the date the motion is filed, because you are required under the law to provide at least ten (10) days’ notice of the hearing to the Office of the Attorney General and the police department that charged the case.
3. Certify that you have provided notice to the Office of the Attorney General and the law enforcement agency that charged the case and then sign the motion.
4. In the Affidavit in Support of the Motion to Expunge or Seal Record, identify the part applicable to your motion.
 - Part One: If you were acquitted (found not guilty), the case was dismissed, a no true bill was returned, or no information was filed.
 - Part Two: If you were convicted of a single felony offense and have not been previously convicted of or placed on probation for a felony or a misdemeanor.
 - Part Three: If you pled guilty or nolo contendere and your sentence was deferred by the court pursuant to a written deferral agreement.
 - Part Four: If the offense has been decriminalized subsequent to the date of your conviction.
5. Put a check mark in the box for each statement that is true under the Part applicable to your motion (see above).
6. Sign the Affidavit in Support of the Motion to Expunge or Seal Record on the line marked “Signature of the Defendant” in the presence of a notary public or clerk. If the Motion to Expunge or Seal Record is being filed by an attorney for a decriminalized offense, an Affidavit in Support of the Motion to Expunge or Seal Record is not required.
7. Bring the Order for Expungement or Sealing of Record to the hearing.
8. If your motion is granted, all financial obligations owed (fines, fees, costs, restitution, and assessments) must be paid in full to complete the expungement process. Upon all conditions being satisfied, the clerk’s office will prepare three (3) certified copies of the order. One (1) copy is for your records, one (1) copy is for the Office of the Attorney General’s Bureau of Criminal Identification Unit (BCI), and one (1) copy is for the police department that charged the case. You are responsible for delivering the copies to these agencies.

ORDER FOR EXPUNGEMENT OR SEALING OF RECORD
(PROPOSED - brought to the hearing by the moving party)

THIS IS NOT A FORM PUBLISHED BY THE RHODE ISLAND JUDICIARY. Instruction 7 on page 1 of the court's own motion says "Bring the Order for Expungement or Sealing of Record to the hearing", and Rhode Island publishes no template for that order. This page is the moving party's OWN proposed order. The Court may sign it, change it, refuse it, or enter an order of its own instead.

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF RHODE ISLAND

v.

Maria-Alejandra O'Shaughnessy-Whitfield

Defendant

County and judicial complex:

Case Number:

Date of Birth: 1972-12-31

Bureau of Criminal Identification Number:

THE MOTION THIS ORDER IS PROPOSED ON

This order is proposed on the Defendant's Motion to Expunge or Seal Record filed in the above-referenced case under R.I. Gen. Laws Sec. 12-1.3-2, Sec. 12-1.3-1 and Sec. 12-1.3-3, and on the Affidavit in Support of that Motion, Part Two: Single Conviction.

The counts, charges and dispositions the motion asks to expunge, as they are listed in Boxes 1, 2 and 3 of the motion. Copy them from the motion; they are not filled in here because the platform has not seen the court record they come from.

2. Count: Charge: Disposition:
3. Count: Charge: Disposition:
4. Count: Charge: Disposition:

Date of the hearing on the motion, as the Clerk's Office set it:

Composed by LegalEase for Maria-Alejandra O'Shaughnessy-Whitfield, as the moving party's own proposed order. It is not an official Rhode Island form, and no part of it is a finding, a grant, a denial, a signature, an entry, a certification or a seal.

The Court's findings:

☐ The motion is GRANTED. ☐ The motion is DENIED.

If the motion is granted, the Court orders the relief it marks below:

☐ that all records and records of conviction relating to the conviction of the above-referenced case be expunged and all index and other references to the case be removed from public inspection pursuant to G.L. 1956 Sec. 12-1.3-3(c) or (e);

☐ other relief the Court orders:

This page is guidance. It is not a filing and there is nothing here to hand to a clerk.

WHO MUST BE TOLD, AND WHEN.

The motion's own certification line says that, under G.L. 1956 Sec. 12-1-12.1(b)(1) or Sec. 12-1.3-3(a), the Office of the Attorney General AND the police department that originally brought the charge have been notified of the motion, and that the court date is at least ten (10) days after they were notified.

THE ORDER OF EVENTS MATTERS, AND IT IS NOT THE ORDER THE PAGE READS IN.

1. You file the motion. 2. The Clerk's Office sets the hearing date, at least ten days out - instruction 2 on page 1 says the Clerk's Office fills that date in, not you. 3. You give notice to the Office of the Attorney General and to the police that brought the charge. 4. Only then do you complete the certification line: the date you gave notice, and the name of that police force.

Nothing on that certification line is filled in for you. A certification that notice has been given, signed and dated before notice was actually given, is a false statement to a court.

NO ADDRESS IS PRINTED HERE. The platform holds no service address for the Office of the Attorney General and none for any Rhode Island police department, and it does not guess one. Ask the clerk of the Superior Court division where you file how that division expects notice to be given and to whom, and get the addresses from the clerk or from the offices themselves.

SERVICE.

Serve the Attorney General and the charging police department at least ten days before the hearing. After a grant, the petitioner delivers certified copies of the order to the Attorney General's BCI unit and the charging police department.

THE HEARING.

Notice must be given to the Rhode Island Department of Attorney General and to the police department that brought the charge, at least ten days before the hearing. A hearing is required. The court may grant if it finds no felony or misdemeanor arrest or conviction during the lookback, no pending criminal proceeding, financial obligations satisfied or waived or reduced, good moral character, rehabilitation to the court's satisfaction, and that expungement is consistent with the public interest.

Two of the findings in that sentence - good moral character, and rehabilitation to the court's satisfaction - are the court's to make. They are not facts LegalEase can supply and nothing in this packet asserts them.

FILING INSTRUCTIONS

Motion to Expunge a Single Felony Conviction as a First Offender (R.I. Gen. Laws Sec. 12-1.3-2)

Prepared for: Maria-Alejandra O'Shaughnessy-Whitfield

WHAT IS IN THIS PACKET.

- Superior Court Motion, Affidavit and Instructions to Expunge or Seal Record - Felony: the state's own motion, affidavit and filing instructions, as published, with your name and date of birth written into both captions and every case fact left for you
- Order for Expungement or Sealing of Record (proposed, prepared by the moving party): the proposed order the court's own instruction 7 tells you to bring to the hearing. Rhode Island publishes no template for it, so it is composed here; it says on its face that it is not an official Rhode Island form, and every line that is the court's is blank
- Notice to the Office of the Attorney General and the charging police: who must be notified, when, in what order, and why the certification line on the motion is completed only after notice has actually been given
- Filing instructions: where it goes, which Part of the affidavit is yours, what the record says about cost, what to get first, and where self-help ends
- Certified copies of the order - what to deliver, and to whom: the three certified copies the clerk prepares after a grant, and the two you must deliver yourself

THE ROUTE. Clear a single felony conviction. Motion to Expunge a Single Felony Conviction as a First Offender (R.I. Gen. Laws Sec. 12-1.3-2). Authority: R.I. Gen. Laws Sec. 12-1.3-2; R.I. Gen. Laws Sec. 12-1.3-1; R.I. Gen. Laws Sec. 12-1.3-3.

A first offender may move to expunge a single felony conviction ten years after completion of sentence, with a ten-year lookback free of any felony or misdemeanor arrest or conviction. All other conditions are as for the misdemeanor route: no crime of violence, no pending criminal proceeding, financial obligations paid or waived or reduced, and the court's findings of good moral character, rehabilitation and consistency with the public interest. The Superior Court felony form is Superior-55.

WHERE IT GOES. The court where the conviction occurred. Rhode Island has no county layer for this purpose; the forms are court-specific rather than local, which makes venue simpler than most states. File the correct court's Motion to Expunge or Seal Record and Affidavit, with the proposed order, with the clerk of the court where the conviction occurred. The clerk fills in the hearing date.

Mark the one judicial complex on the motion where your case was heard. The Superior Court form lists four; the platform has not seen your docket and does not know which one is yours.

THE AFFIDAVIT, AND THE ONE PART THAT IS YOURS.

Page 1 of the court's form, instruction 4, tells you to identify the Part of the affidavit applicable to your motion. For this route that is Part Two: Single Conviction, which applies where page 1 of Superior-55 directs a person seeking to expunge a single felony conviction as a first offender to Part Two; instruction 5 requires the participant to check only each printed statement that is true, and the affidavit must be executed before the authorized notary or clerk.

Instruction 5 then says: "Put a check mark in the box for each statement that is true under the Part applicable to your motion." NOT ONE OF THOSE BOXES IS MARKED FOR YOU, in that Part or in any other. Each one is a statement you swear to under oath about your own record, your own unpaid balances, whether any case is pending against you, and your own character. LegalEase holds no Rhode Island criminal history record and no court docket for anyone, and it will not swear for you. Read each statement in your Part, and mark it only if it is true of your case.

Do not mark any statement that is not true. The fourth Part Two statement keeps the court's printed misdemeanor wording and is addressed below; do not treat that source wording as an unresolved choice of affidavit Part. If any other statement required for Part Two is not true, stop and get case-specific advice before filing. A marked box that is not true is a false statement under oath.

WHERE IT IS SWORN. Required. The affidavit must be signed before a notary or a clerk. The petitioner signs the affidavit before a notary or a clerk. This is a sworn document and the signature must be witnessed in person.

The whole notarial certificate at the foot of the affidavit - the state, the county, the day, the month, the year, the name of the person who appeared, the identification relied on, the notary's signature, commission expiry and identification number - is completed by the notary or the clerk who takes your oath, at the moment you swear it. None of it is filled in here.

WHAT IT COSTS.

The Rhode Island Superior Court does not charge an expungement filing fee. This is separate from fines, costs, restitution, or other obligations already ordered in your case. Follow the requirements for your particular expungement route concerning any remaining obligations. A no-fee filing does not cancel an unpaid court obligation.

WHERE THAT ANSWER COMES FROM, AND WHICH COURT GAVE IT. It is the Rhode Island Superior Court's own expungement FAQ, "Is there a fee associated with my expungement?", published at <https://www.courts.ri.gov/Courts/superiorcourt/Pages/FAQs.aspx>. That is the SUPERIOR COURT's answer. If your case is in the District Court or the Family Court, ask that court's clerk to confirm that it applies to your filing before you go. No dollar figure appears on the court's motion form, and none is printed here.

A SEPARATE MONEY QUESTION, WHICH IS NOT THE FILING FEE. Court-imposed and court-related fines, fees, costs, assessments and charges on the underlying case must be satisfied in full - the affidavit asks you to swear to that. A court order may waive or reduce those obligations, and the resulting court-ordered balance controls. If you cannot pay them, that is a question to raise with the court rather than a reason to swear that they are paid.

DOCUMENTS TO GET FIRST, AND WHO HAS THEM.

- Rhode Island BCI criminal history record. From: Rhode Island Department of Attorney General, Bureau of Criminal Identification. Ask the Attorney General's Bureau of Criminal Identification for a Rhode Island STATE criminal records check, and tell BCI the request is for an expungement: the expungement-purpose report is not the ordinary public or employment check. The Attorney General's own page, <https://riag.ri.gov/i-want/get-background-check>, carries the current requirements - valid photo identification, and a request made in person at the BCI office or by mail as that page directs - and the state check has its own cost of $5, which is a charge for the record and is not a court filing fee. Do not order the fingerprint-based national check used for employment in its place. This record is where the BCI number the court form requires comes from. A state report that comes back clear does not by itself prove that no relevant arrest or disposition exists, so the docket from the court that heard the case is still required. LegalEase cannot make this request for you, and any release or signature it needs is yours.
- Court docket showing counts, charges and dispositions. From: Clerk of the District, Superior or Family Court where the case occurred. Ask the clerk of the court where the case occurred for the docket, which shows the case number, every count, the charges and the dispositions the form requires.
- Proof that sentence and probation are complete. From: Clerk of the sentencing court, or the probation department. Ask the clerk or the probation department for documentation showing the sentence, including any probation, is complete. The waiting period runs from completion of sentence, not from conviction, and probation can push that date years out.
- Proof that financial obligations are paid, waived or reduced by court order. From: Clerk of the sentencing court. Ask the clerk for a record showing fines, fees, costs, assessments and restitution are satisfied, or the court order waiving or reducing them.

CURRENT BCI INSTRUCTIONS. The acquisition requirements and the $5 state-check cost are published by the Rhode Island Department of Attorney General at <https://riag.ri.gov/i-want/get-background-check>. Read that official page before you go because a cost or procedure can change.

THE $5 IS NOT A COURT FEE, AND IT IS NOT A COURT OBLIGATION. It is what the state charges for the criminal records check itself. It is separate from anything the court charges to file this motion, and separate again from the fines, costs, restitution and assessments ordered in your case.

A CLEAR REPORT IS NOT A FINDING THAT THERE IS NOTHING TO FIND. A state criminal records check reports what Rhode Island holds; it is not a determination that no relevant arrest, charge or disposition exists anywhere. The docket from the court that heard your case is required as well, and the sworn statements in the affidavit are still yours to check against both.

EVERY SIGNATURE AND RELEASE ON THAT REQUEST IS YOURS. LegalEase does not request, receive, hold or authenticate your criminal history, and it does not sign a release for you.

THE WAITING PERIOD AND THE LOOKBACK FOR THIS ROUTE.

- Single felony conviction, first offender: 10 years from completion of sentence, including completion of probation
- Lookback free of any felony or misdemeanor arrest or conviction: 10 years

THE HEARING, AND THE PAGE YOU MUST NOT LEAVE AT HOME.

Page 1 of the court's form, instruction 7, says: "Bring the Order for Expungement or Sealing of Record to the hearing." Rhode Island publishes no template for that order, so this packet contains one composed for you. It is NOT an official Rhode Island form, it says so on its own face, and the court may sign it, change it, refuse it or use an order of its own. Everything on it that is the court's - the findings, whether the motion is granted or denied, any terms the court sets, the signature, the date of entry, the certification - is blank, because none of that is yours or ours to write.

A DISAGREEMENT ON THE COURT'S OWN FORM. READ THIS BEFORE YOU SWEAR TO ANYTHING.

PART TWO IS THE PART FOR THIS ROUTE. Page 1 of Superior-55 says: "Part Two: If you were convicted of a single FELONY offense and have not been previously convicted of or placed on probation for a felony or a misdemeanor." This single-felony first-offender packet therefore uses Part Two. The fourth printed statement in Part Two still says "single MISDEMEANOR offense." That source wording is preserved and no box is selected for you. Follow instruction 5: check only each statement that is true of your case, do not check the fourth statement if its printed misdemeanor wording is not true, and execute the affidavit before the authorized notary or clerk. If you cannot truthfully make a required statement, stop and get case-specific advice before filing. Do not alter the court's wording or swear to an untrue statement.

WHO IS EXCLUDED FROM THIS ROUTE.

- Any conviction for a crime of violence as statutorily defined: murder, manslaughter, first-degree arson, kidnapping with intent to extort, robbery, larceny from the person, first- and second-degree sexual assault, first- and second-degree child molestation, assault with intent to murder, assault with intent to rob, assault with intent to commit first-degree sexual assault, burglary, and entering a dwelling with intent to commit murder, robbery, sexual assault or larceny.
- Any person previously convicted of, or placed on probation for, a felony or misdemeanor; prior probation alone defeats first-offender status.
- Any felony or misdemeanor arrest or conviction during the ten-year lookback. An arrest alone, without conviction, defeats eligibility.
- Any pending criminal proceeding.
- Court-imposed or court-related financial obligations that are unpaid and not waived or reduced by court order.
- Federal, out-of-state, military and tribal records.

WHEN TO STOP AND GET HELP INSTEAD.

These are the points where self-help ends:

- Any crime of violence, which bars conviction expungement outright.
- Any prior conviction or prior probation, which defeats first-offender status.
- Any arrest during the lookback period, even without a conviction.
- Unpaid or unclear court financial obligations.
- Any pending criminal proceeding.
- The good moral character and rehabilitation showing, which is the court's finding and not a fact LegalEase can supply.
- Immigration exposure. Rhode Island expungement does not resolve immigration consequences.
- Any goal involving law enforcement employment, bar admission or bar character and fitness, a teaching certificate, a coaching certificate, or early childhood education work, where disclosure survives expungement.
- Federal, out-of-state, military and tribal records, which Rhode Island relief does not reach.
- Every felony is an escalation on this track. Screen the reclassification overlay first, because a reclassified felony may cut the wait from ten years to five.

WHAT THIS PACKET IS NOT. It is the state's own motion and affidavit, a proposed order composed for the hearing because the state publishes none, and instructions. It is not legal advice, it is not filed for you, and it does not decide whether you are eligible.

CERTIFIED COPIES OF THE ORDER - WHAT TO DELIVER, AND TO WHOM

Prepared for: Maria-Alejandra O'Shaughnessy-Whitfield

This page is guidance. It is not a filing and there is nothing here to hand to a clerk.

WHAT HAPPENS AFTER THE COURT GRANTS THE MOTION - AND THE PART THAT IS YOURS TO DO.

The court's own form says it, on page 1, instruction 8: "If your motion is granted, all financial obligations owed (fines, fees, costs, restitution, and assessments) must be paid in full to complete the expungement process. Upon all conditions being satisfied, the clerk's office will prepare three (3) certified copies of the order. One (1) copy is for your records, one (1) copy is for the Office of the Attorney General's Bureau of Criminal Identification Unit (BCI), and one (1) copy is for the police department that charged the case. You are responsible for delivering the copies to these agencies."

So, in order:

1. SATISFY WHAT YOUR CASE ACTUALLY LEAVES OWING, AS THE COURT'S ORDER LEAVES IT. The court's own instruction is quoted above and nothing in it is changed here. What you have to satisfy is what the order in your case leaves owing: where a court has REDUCED OR WAIVED costs or fines by order, the balance that order leaves is the balance, and this packet does not tell you to pay a sum a judge has already remitted. Where no order reduces or waives anything, the full balance stands. RESTITUTION IS NOT THE SAME AS COSTS AND FINES. Restitution is owed to the person harmed, and a court's remission of costs and fines does not remit it. Treat them separately when you ask what is outstanding.
ASK THE CLERK, AND BRING THE ORDER. Ask the clerk of the sentencing court for a record of what is outstanding, and take any waiver or reduction order with you. YOU CANNOT DECLARE AN OBLIGATION WAIVED. Only a court order does that, and the clerk works from the order rather than from your account of it. If you cannot pay what is genuinely left, that is a question to raise with the court, not a reason to swear that it is paid.
2. ASK THE CLERK'S OFFICE FOR THE THREE CERTIFIED COPIES. The clerk's office prepares them once every condition is satisfied. Certified copies are the clerk's to make; do not photocopy the order yourself and expect it to be accepted.
3. KEEP ONE COPY.
4. DELIVER ONE COPY to the Office of the Attorney General's Bureau of Criminal Identification Unit.
5. DELIVER ONE COPY to the police department that charged the case.
6. THE DELIVERY IS YOURS, NOT THE COURT'S. The form says you are responsible for delivering the copies. Until they arrive, those records are not expunged, whatever the order says.

Keep proof of what you delivered and when.

Nothing on this checklist can be done before the court grants the motion, and none of it is done by the court for you.
