The following information is provided on the Florida Department of Law Enforcement's Seal and Expunge page including additional frequently asked questions not contained within this document.

-What is the difference between a sealed record and an expunged record?

When a criminal history record is sealed or expunged, the public will not have access to it. Certain governmental or related entities, primarily those listed in Section 943.059\(4\)\(a\), F.S., have access to the sealed record information in its entirety. When a record has been expunged, most of the entities which would have access to a sealed record will be informed that the subject of the record has had a record expunged but would not have access to the record itself without a court order. The response to a record search query from such an entity would be: "Criminal History Record Expunged Pursuant to Florida Statutes 943."

-How many dates of arrest can I have sealed or expunged?

The eligibility criteria for sealing or expungement include the requirement that the applicant be able to attest that he/she has never previously had a record sealed or expunged, under Section 943.059, Section 943.0585, or previous versions of those statutes, in Florida. With respect to the relief offered by these statutes, a person may only seal or expunge one arrest record in one proceeding. More than one arrest record may be sealed or expunged in a single proceeding if the court, in its sole discretion, finds the arrests in question to be directly related.

A record that is initially ineligible for expungement (because adjudication was withheld) may become eligible after it has been sealed for 10 years. However, a person may not seal or expunge one arrest record and then, later and in a different proceeding, ask to have a different arrest record sealed or expunged. NOTE: Other forms of expungement, such as expungement which occurs automatically (by operation of law), under Section 943.0515, administrative expungement under Section 943.0581, juvenile diversion expungement under Section 943.0582, human trafficking expungement under Section 943.0583, lawful self-defense expungement under Section 943.0578 and early juvenile expungement under Section 943.0515\(1\)\(b\)2, do not prevent the record subject of the record from seeking a judicial sealing or expungement under Section 943.0585 or Section 943.059, F.S.

-I had my record expunged years ago, but I need a copy of my records. What can I do?

Once a record has been expunged under Section 943.0585, F.S. it is no longer available to be disseminated to anyone, under any circumstances, absent a court order so authorizing. FDLE, as well as any other state or local agency, is statutorily prohibited from releasing copies of court-ordered expunged records, even to the person whose record was expunged. FDLE may release a copy of an expunged record only upon receipt of a court order. It is highly recommended that you obtain and keep a copy of all pertinent documents (arrest report and disposition, order to expunge or seal) for your records before you secure the sealing or expungement of your criminal history record.

-If I have had my record sealed or expunged, but my record is still showing up on the internet, what can I do?

A seal or expungement order cannot eliminate all information about someone's arrest and criminal history record from the Internet. For example, "mugshot" photographs and arrest information maintained on privately operated websites are not subject to an expungement order. Private companies collect information from a variety of online sources, governmental and commercial. FDLE does not have regulatory authority over these companies, so we cannot request or demand any private entity to change or delete the information it provides, whether such information was obtained from the Department, prior to the court-ordered sealing or expungement, or obtained from other sources. You will need to contact the private entity or entities directly to request any changes or adjustments to their records. Some entities which collect criminal history information may be considered consumer reporting agencies, subject to restrictions imposed by the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act, 15 U.S.C. Section 1681 and following, administered by the Federal Trade Commission (www.ftc.gov).

Entities Entitled to Access Sealed and Expunged Records:

The subject of a criminal history record sealed under Section 943.059 or under former versions of this law, including former Section 893.14, former Section 901.33, and former Section 943.058, may lawfully deny or fail to acknowledge the arrests covered by the sealed record, except when the subject of the record:

1. Is a candidate for employment with a criminal justice agency;
2. Is a defendant in a criminal prosecution;
3. Concurrently or subsequently petitions for relief under Section 943.0585 or Section 943.059 or Section 943.0583;
4. Is a candidate for admission to The Florida Bar;
5. Is seeking to be employed or licensed by or to contract with the Department of Children and Family Services, the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation within the Department of Education, the Agency for Health Care Administration, the Agency for Persons with Disabilities, the Department of Health, the Department of Elderly Affairs, or the Department of Juvenile Justice or to be employed or used by such contractor or licensee in a sensitive position having direct contact with children, the disabled, or the elderly;
6. Is seeking to be employed or licensed by the Department of Education, any district school board, any university laboratory school, any charter school, any private or parochial school, or any local governmental entity that licenses childcare facilities; or
7. Is attempting to purchase a firearm from a licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, or licensed dealer and is subject to a criminal history background check under state or federal law.
8. Is seeking to be licensed by the Division of Insurance Agent and Agency Services within the Department of Financial Service;
9. Is seeking to be appointed as a guardian pursuant to Section 744.3125; or

10. Is seeking to be licensed by the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services to carry a concealed weapon or concealed firearm. This subparagraph applies only in the determination of an applicant's eligibility under Section 790.06.

When a record is sealed, all entities listed above, will receive the sealed arrest event and a caveat stating that the criminal history information has been sealed

When a record is expunged, all entities listed above except #7 and #10, will receive the subject's demographic information and a caveat stating that criminal history information has been expunged, but will not see the details of the arrest, any charges filed, or their disposition.
