- Sign and date the petition only after every required fact is complete and accurate.
- Sign the sworn statement only before a notary public or other person authorized to administer an oath. The notary completes the oath date, signature, identification, printed name, and commission fields.
- Do not fill any findings, scope of relief, order date, judge signature, judge printed name, clerk certification, or clerk distribution field on the proposed order.
- The committed review does not state a statewide service recipient, destination, method, or timing rule. Ask the filing clerk what copies or local service steps are required. Use the certificate only if directed, enter only facts from delivery that actually occurred, and do not complete, sign, or date it before delivery.

Stop and get help

Stop for disputed victim status, prosecutor opposition, a contested or evidentiary hearing, individualized advocacy, uncertainty whether an offense is excluded, or any immigration issue. This build does not resolve those questions.

This packet has not been filed, served, independently verified, approved for live use, or released for commercial fulfillment.

Filing instructions - Florida section 943.0583

1. Complete the petition and sworn statement from the underlying court and arrest records. Keep each case block complete.
2. Gather official documentation of victim status if you have it, plus other non-graphic supporting evidence. Official documentation can create the statutory presumption; it is not categorically required. The committed route record states that proceeding without it requires a clear-and-convincing-evidence showing.
3. Have the sworn statement signed before a notary public or other person authorized to administer an oath. Do not predate it.
4. Leave the proposed order's findings, relief description, dates, judge fields, and clerk fields blank.
5. File in any court in the Florida circuit where the arrest occurred that has jurisdiction over the class of the offense or offenses requested for expunction.
6. The committed pathway record states that the clerk may not charge filing, service, or copy fees for this section 943.0583 petition and treats multiple eligible cases as a single petition. Confirm the clerk's current intake procedure and any local cover-sheet or copy requirement before filing; this packet does not create a local-circuit form.
7. The committed legal-design record does not establish a separate statewide service recipient, destination, method, or timing rule for this petition. Ask the filing clerk what copies or local service steps are required. Use the included certificate only if the clerk directs service or copy delivery; after delivery, enter the actual date, recipients, addresses, and method, then sign and date the certificate. Never complete, sign, or date it before delivery.
8. Keep a complete stamped copy. If relief is granted, obtain a certified copy of the entered order and follow up on record-system implementation.

A filing location or local procedure question is answered by the clerk of the court in the circuit of arrest. A disputed legal or evidentiary issue requires counsel.
